

SELF-CATERING is a fabulous holiday option, offering the perfect balance between pampering and privacy. It's a business which is rightly taken very seriously, with some wonderful resorts offering the ultimate in getting away from it all, whether your preference is a holiday full of outdoor activity or leaning more towards doing as little as possible, interspersed with some seriously good food and drink. There is a wonderful range of properties available in all sizes, from the traditional to the most up to date and futuristic and all are proud to boast that everything you might need is on your doorstep to be enjoyed.

Drumhalla

Drumhalla House is more than 200 years old and both the house and the general area are steeped in history. The present owners have thoughtfully retained the house and surrounding gardens. The 56-acre Drumhalla estate is renowned for its variety of trees, shrubbery and well-maintained lawns, creating a peaceful, secluded setting for any occasion. There are very few places that can rival the splendour and beauty of this five-star holiday location. Drumhalla is also a perfect base from which to enjoy the attractions of North West Ireland. The Main House can be rented as a complete property with 11 bedrooms or can be compartmentalised into three separate units, each with its own entrance and fully fitted kitchen, and there are also two coach houses, each with two bedrooms. This is a wonderful place to simply tick yourself away and enjoy the peace and tranquility, especially since Drumhalla is set right on a golden beach accessed by a path at the end of the garden. It is also just a short distance from the seaside village of Rathmullan, while nearby Ballyvaughan Bay boasts one of the finest blue flag beaches in the world, which, despite its fame and beauty, is never crowded and is in a wonderfully sheltered spot on the bay. The area is a paradise for golfers and Drumhalla is an ideal base from which to visit some of Ireland's finest golf courses. It is a lovely wedding destination and becoming equally popular as a venue for family gatherings, family celebrations and re-unions but whatever the reason for your visit, it has all you need for a relaxing and memorable holiday.

Mains of Taymouth

Mains of Taymouth lies at the head of Loch Tay in Highland Perthshire, just over the bridge from the picturesque village of Kenmore. This family-owned 120-acre estate, which was built in the 19th century and was formerly the home farm for neighbouring Taymouth Castle, is nestled in magnificent scenery and promises unparalleled on-site facilities, which make it the perfect all-round destination.

It has a stunning selection of luxury award-winning self-catering cottages and houses, beautiful in themselves but simply irresistible when coupled with everything else on offer on the estate. The Quayside includes a cafe bar and restaurant, deli/caseneer, clothing and gift shop, while Kenmore Golf Course has discounted golf and free winter golf for estate guests and the Mains of Taymouth Stables is a trekking centre with livery available. Adjacent to Loch Tay and Loch Tay Boat Centre offering boating, sailing, kayaking, canoeing and bike hire, this well-supervised and pet-friendly resort is the ultimate luxury destination, with private saunas, hot tubs and games facilities with many of the properties.

The investment opportunities of a complete buy-to-let package are currently exciting a great deal of interest, especially The Gallies' two-bedroom apartments,
