Mains of Taymouth Stables has unveiled plans for an "Own a Pony Day."

The package will run over the Easter holidays at Kenmore.

Designed to teach the practical skills required to look after a pony or horse, the experience encourages children to muck in and ride out in a fun, informative and fully supervised day of activities on a busy working country estate.

Katy Bennett, manager of Mains of Taymouth Stables, said: "We anticipate a high level of demand for the 'Own a Pony Day' from visitors, owners and locals alike.

"The Taymouth Pony Club, which runs on the estate every Saturday, caters for different levels of riding ability and we were finding that many guests with children were keen to spend more time at the stables.

"Learning to ride is a real investment and it can be costly to commit to a series of lessons. This package provides our guests with a great introduction to horses and teaches children more about how to care for a horse as well as providing the fun riding experience in a safe and controlled environment."

The 'Own a Pony Day' is priced at £40 per child from 10am to 3pm and is available for kids aged six to 16 years. The price includes a riding lesson or trek on the estate grounds and surrounding countryside, and stable duties such as grooming and tacking up.
